

Dear Volters,

In 2023, I was honoured to become a Non-Executive Board Member of Volt Europa thanks to your votes. Today, I am asking you once again to support my candidacy as I seek a second mandate. I firmly believe my mission in the European Board is not yet complete, and I can still contribute to the organization with my unique experience and my vision, based on two main pillars:

First, we must accelerate our expansion and growth across Europe, while approaching elections with greater confidence and strategic focus. A strong European organisation is essential to this effort. Volt Europa is not only our common home and community but also a platform for dialogue and coordination and the guiding ship in our political adventure. We must ensure that Volt keeps energising its members and attracting new people to join and become active members, fighting for our ideas and eventually representing us in political bodies on different levels and in different countries. Our organisation has to grow in numbers and multiply functioning teams, both thematic and geographic. To achieve this growth, we have to support the upskilling and training of our party leaders as well as our elected officials and future candidates. We also need to pursue our efforts in strengthening the coordination between different levels of our organisations, making sure that we have all access to shared tools and infrastructure so that parts of our organisation aren't reinventing the wheel and focus more on strategic goals and priorities. The current board has presented and the membership approved Shine 29 as our European strategy for the upcoming years. If elected, I want to make sure that the new board keeps implementing this strategy and provides leadership and guidance to those who want to work together to achieve our ambitious goals.

That's why I remain committed to one of our biggest projects - becoming a European political party. If we succeed, it will represent a tool enabling us to position ourselves on the European political map but also providing us new resources to perfection and promote our ideas. It is also a way for us to facilitate political alliances across Europe so that we can become more influential and increase our impact, in line with our Shine 29 strategy. The current board has reached some significant milestones but the work is far from being done. If elected I want to support the continuous work on this project and as a member of the current European board I can bring continuity and experience from the previous mandate. The creation of the European political party is also linked to another major task the future Board will undertake - preparing the pan-European campaign for 2029. When elected at the end of 2023, our board jumped on the running train of the 2024 campaign as we inherited foundations laid by the previous board. This time, it will be up to the board we are going to elect this year to put in place a campaign engine from A to Z that will be ambitious and inspiring and lead to even bigger electoral success than the one that helped us to go from 1 to 5 seats in 2024.

As a candidate for a second mandate, I offer continuity, experience, and the team spirit we have demonstrated over the past term. I hope to help form a diverse yet cohesive European board, ready to make the crucial decisions that will shape Volt's future. I would be deeply honoured to continue serving you for the next three years. If you'd like to discuss my candidacy or share your thoughts, please reach out on Hailo, WhatsApp, or via email.

With respect and gratitude,

Slavomir (Slavek)
